ABSTRACT

This tutorial will focus on the grant application process from beginning to end. We will examine potential grant funding sources, review successful grant applications, discuss sources of assistance, create grant templates, and present methods of assessment and dissemination. Key elements of a successful grant will be identified and demonstrated. Participants will be provided with copies of successful grant proposals and provided with assistance in the initial development of a grant proposal. The focus will be on equipment acquisition, curriculum development, and faculty development. Budget construction will also be discussed, including indirect costs, salary computations, and matching fund requirements. Participants are encouraged to come with ideas for possible projects to be developed.
