

LOCAL AND WIDE AREA NETWORKS

TUTORIAL PRESENTATION

Randy Johnson
Professional Marketing Services
335 N. Washington, Ste 70
Hutchinson, Kansas 67504

Mr. Johnson's company, Professional Marketing Services, installs and services Local Areas Networks throughout the United States. He will be sharing concerns of particular interest to computer faculty, such as networking campuses. Issues of both hardware and software will be addressed including various topologies, network operating systems, and protocols.

Randy has a strong interest in the educational community. He created the first microcomputer instructional curriculum in the central Kansas area at Hutchinson Community College. This program has served as a model program for community colleges and universities around the nation. In addition, he is a popular speaker for Interface Currency Seminars and has taught six years at the National Computer Educator's Institute.